I. 次の英文を読み、以下の問いに答えなさい。（*印がつけられている語(句)に関しては注を参考にする
こと。）

Every school has a teacher, but how teachers are viewed by people is different in every country.
What are those views, and (A) [ ① how ② those views ③ affect ④ do ] a teacher's role?

In China, teachers are compared to doctors. They are highly respected and trusted. This may be related to the strong cultural focus* on education in China. The role of a Chinese teacher is to instruct—usually the teacher talks and the students listen. ( B ), the Chinese school is seen as a serious place for learning. The teacher is free to punish* students who do not follow rules by hitting their hands or involving their parents. Though the teacher may be feared* by the students, Chinese students perform well on tests and respect their teachers. In fact, 50% of Chinese parents (C) [ ① encourage ② become ③ to ④ their children ] teachers.

In the US and UK, teachers are compared to library workers—they provide the means* to learn. Their role is to help students. Students are encouraged to be curious*; the teacher helps students to discover knowledge while providing a fun and comfortable learning environment. There might be less focus on keeping students in line* and following the rules and more focus on development and progress. Some parents or students may see teachers in the US or UK as a student's hero or friend; thus many times, students will look up ( D ) a teacher as a role model.

In Finland, teachers are compared to social workers—they (E) [ ① a ② work ③ as ④ team ] with students to promote* personal and emotional growth. In fact, less focus is placed on the amount of education than in other countries. Children in Finland start school ( F ) age 7 and are required to attend school for only 9 years. In addition, (G) there is less classroom instruction and plenty of time for breaks and play. Still, students in Finland are also some of the highest performing in the world. Teachers usually teach the same group of students for the first six years of school, so their role is to care for and guide each individual student to success (H) as a parent might do.

Whatever the view and role may be in ( I ) country or their individual differences, teachers are generally the heroes behind the scenes of society. They work day in and day out* to help students to become the people they want to be and to contribute to society.

II. 次の英文を読み、以下の問いに答えなさい。（*印がつけられている語(句)に関しては注を参考にする
こと。）

( A ) science, our understanding of the world has expanded rapidly in recent years, but one basic thing we still don't understand very well is ( B ) human civilization* has existed: The textbook answer is 6,000 years. However, this answer is constantly being challenged. If civilization is the ability to use tools, then civilization started 3.4 million years ago when our ancestors in Ethiopia* started making simple stone tools to butcher* animals. If civilization means complicated structures, then (C)the textbooks say civilization is about 25,000 years old. But a pyramid ( D ) in Bosnia* in 2005 has been dated to 20,000 years before the Egyptian pyramids. While some experts say the Bosnian Pyramid is a natural structure, it's impossible to reject the existence of a complex religious stone structure built 11,000 years ago in Turkey*. Constructed at a time ( E ) scientists generally believed that humans could only hunt and gather food, Gobekli Tepe* proves the existence of a complex social structure with tools for ( F ) beautiful structures. (G)We really don't know that much, and we will continue to be ( H ) by new discoveries related to the origins of our civilization.
